'Sugar Bill Row May Delay Adjournment

House, Senate Agree On Aid Compromise

But Dispute Flares Over Ike Power To Cut Sugar Imports

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House and Senate settled their differences over more foreign aid money Wednesday night. But a Senate dispute over sugar import legislation threatened hopes for prompt adjournment of the post-convention session.

The Senate, which had heeded President Eisenhower's pleas in part and voted another 191 million dollars in aid money, yielded to the House and agreed to compromise on only 65 million. Senate action was by voice vote.

Earlier in the day, the House—some of whose members were in a mood to deny all increases—grudgingly gave in a bit to the Senate and to Eisenhower and approved the 65-million figure.

Added To Catch-All Bill

The House had balked at allowing a penny more, despite Eisenhower's contention that Congress cut dangerously deep in its earlier passage of the main $3,722,350,000 aid bill.

The added 65 million in aid money was written into a final $162,166,981 catch-all money bill covering funds for a variety of federal functions.

The compromise action on the aid issue cleared away one of the few remaining obstacles to adjournment.

However, a ruckus blew up when the Senate Finance Committee approved a sugar bill but rejected Republican attempts to arm Eisenhower with wider powers to deal with the Dominican Republic's quota.

The committee-approved bill carried limited authority for the President to cut purchases of sugar from the Dominican Republic, with which the United States has broken diplomatic relations.

Floor Fight Looms

Sen. Wallace F. Bennett (R-Utah) protested that the authority was so hemmed in as to be useless. He served notice of a floor fight.

The House already has passed a similar bill which Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois complained is impossible because he said it has too many strings.

With the Democratic-controlled Congress straining to rush for home and the election campaign, Vice President Richard M. Nixon gave it a parting kick.

Through a spokesman, the hospitalized Republican presidential candidate said Congress was called back by Democratic leaders for political purposes and that it is not surprising it didn't produce the kind of program he and Eisenhower felt should be enacted.

New Yorkers Hunt Lost Honey Bear

NEW YORK (AP) — Manhattan hadn't been much of a place for bear-hunting for quite a spell—until Wednesday.

Now a lot of folks are scouring the canyons around W. 71st St. looking for a cute little 30-pound honey bear who apparently got tired of apartment life.

The half-year-old youngster fell or jumped out of a fourth-floor apartment window Wednesday morning, picked itself up and quickly scrambled away through backyards on the block.

The bear was the pet of Robert Ray, 17, who said the animal hadn't given him a bit of trouble since purchased in March.

Reds Bar Many From W. Berlin

Buses Stopped, Trains Searched

EX-MAYOR DIES — Former Baltimore Mayor Howard W. Jackson (above), 83, died in his sleep yesterday after a brief illness. He was mayor of Baltimore for 16 years. (Story on page 2.) (AP Photofax)

BERLIN (AP) — Communists commanding entry to isolated West Berlin turned back many West German visitors seeking to reach the city by road and rail Wednesday. The Reds contend they are trying to keep potential agitators away from East Berlin during West Berlin meetings of former residents of Red-ruled East Germany.

Besides those stopped, thousands of West Germans are believed to have stayed away from Berlin because of Communist threats.

A bus load of Bavarians en route to the West Berlin meeting was stopped at the border between East and West Germany. Fifteen car loads of delegates to a Baptist church convention were halted and sent home when they tried to cross Communist territory.

27 Put Off Trains

The 110-mile highway from West Germany to Berlin passes through Communist East Germany.

East German police put at least 27 persons off trains en route to Berlin.

Mayor Willy Brandt's West Berlin city government denounced the blockade as an outstanding violation of law. An official statement asserted the convention of East German refugees would be held on schedule.

City officials met after Brandt conferred with chiefs of the U.S., British and French garrisons.

In Berlin itself, dozens of West Germans were turned back when they tried to cross into the Communist sector at the many street corners where this is normally permitted.

Allies Protest

West Berliners and foreigners were allowed through to East Berlin. West Germans living outside West Berlin could go by subway or elevated train but they risked arrest by Communist police if found on Communist territory.

Spot checks were numerous. The Allied commanders in Berlin fired off a protest to the city's ranking Soviet officer, Maj. Gen. Nikolai F. Zakharov. They called the East German actions a flagrant violation of the right of free circulation in Berlin.

The candidates will discuss domestic policy in their Sept. 26 debate, from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. EST. The program will originate in Chicago.

They will debate foreign policy on Oct. 21, from 9 to 10 p.m. EST, in a program originating in New York.

The format of the Oct. 13 program will be that of a news panel discussion, in which the candidates would reply to questions asked by newsmen. The time, or place of origin, has not been determined.

Galloping Nudists Bring Vigilantes

PORTSMOUTH, England (AP) — Local residents announced today they have formed a vigilantes committee to stop naked teenagers of both sexes from running through the streets after midnight dips in the English Channel.

Allan Knight, leader of the vigilantes, said there are about 40 teenagers. "They were swimming in the nude. They run around the streets to dry themselves," he said.

Joe Munday, 67, an ex-sailor, said the nude teen-agers' language was particularly disturbing. "I never heard anything like it in the 30 years I was in the navy," he said.

Peace Reigns As Schools At Knoxville Integrated

By United Press International

The grade-a-year plan approved by federal courts was accomplished without incident.

Elsewhere in the South there were these developments Wednesday:

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People announced it is asking the U.S. Supreme Court to hand down an order vacating a federal-granted 65-day delay of school integration in New Orleans. The New Orleans school board has been told it may wait until Nov. 14 before integrating schools.

Jacksonville, Fla., City Court Judge John Santora served notice he will clamp down on "hoodlums" carrying firearms in the city, torn recently by outbreaks of racial violence.

Santora told a reporter he had called on Hammarskjold to replace the Belgian specialists with those of other countries and to hand over the bases to the U.S. government of Premier Patrice Lumumba as soon as arrangements could be worked out.

Police said the integration of Knoxville's school system under incidents.

Africa States Tell Lumumba To Assist U.N.

Kasai Rebels Say Congolese Ousted From Four Towns

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—African neighbors bluntly told Premier Patrice Lumumba's government Wednesday to stop harassing the United Nations and cooperate in U.N. efforts to end the chaos within this two-month-old nation.

A Lumumba setback in the conference of independent African states coincided with a report from Elisabethville of reverses for his troops in their campaign against rebels in Kasai Province.

Albert Kalonji, the Baluba chieftain who proclaims himself president of a Mineral state in southern Kasai, claimed his troops had recaptured Bakwanga, his capital, and three other towns that Lumumba's men occupied last week. Independent confirmation was lacking.

Lumumba At Conference

Lumumba was on hand for the windup of the 13-nation conference of independent African states, which he opened at the Palace of Culture last Thursday while his police outside used warning shots and wielded gun butts to break up a demonstration against him.

The Premier, who has attacked the United Nations off and on and spread the suspicion that its motives are imperialistic, sat quietly as the resolution calling for Congolese cooperation was read.

But he bounded back a little later with a complaint the Congo had not been consulted about U.N. moves. He suggested "incidents would have been avoided if from the beginning a spirit of cooperation had existed between representatives of the United Nations and those of the government of the republic."

Congo Asked For U. N. Force

The conference pointed out that the United Nations entered the Congo "at the express request of the government of the Republic of the Congo" and intended to "safeguard her independence, her unity and her territorial integrity."

The resolution noted that the U.N. mission was designed to prevent the Congo from becoming involved in the cold war. The United Nations was praised for "the work of peace it brings to the Congo" and for promotion of the withdrawal of Belgian troops.

Lumumba, who has repeatedly called for the withdrawal of U.N. white troops, and who has harassed Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, reassured confidence in the United Nations and its members. But he added: "Our great hope is that this organization pursues its objective with more efficacy for the great happiness of humanity."

Soviet Protests Belgian Delay

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union Wednesday night delivered a strong protest to U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold against the continued presence of Belgian forces in the Congo.

The Russians also objected to a U.N. plan to keep Belgian specialists at two big Congo bases.

The Soviet move came after Hammarskjold had protested to the Belgian government against delay in getting the last Belgian combat troops out of the troubled African country.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasili V. Kuznetsov demanded that Hammarskjold not only get the remaining Belgian forces, totaling about 600, out of the Congo but that he get rid of an equal number of technicians at Kamina and Katona, bases which have just been taken over by the United Nations.

Hammarskjold announced earlier that the United Nations has taken control of the bases and has asked the Belgian specialists to remain as part of the U.N. organization.

He said no military or civilian personnel except those serving the United Nations would be allowed at the bases.

Kuznetsov told a reporter he had called on Hammarskjold to replace the Belgian specialists with those of other countries and to hand over the bases to the U.S. government of Premier Patrice Lumumba as soon as arrangements could be worked out.

The joke started with a long distance phone call last Labor Day and since has snowballed.

"Up until noon today, I thought it was all pretty silly," he said.

"But now I'm looking forward to getting out to the West Coast. I think it'll be fun."

Steer Steers Clear Of Cops

A Hereford steer that bolted for freedom en route to the slaughterhouse yesterday pauses near a parking meter in front of the Milwaukee County courthouse in the Milwaukee downtown area during a lull in a merry chase with police officers and cattlemen. Tranquillizer shots had little effect on the 1,200-pound animal and a police officer finally had to kill it with a rifle. (AP Photofax)

Jordan Reports "Third Man" In Bombing Seized

Yacht Carrying 18 Apparently Winning Fight To Stay Afloat

AMMAN, Jordan (UPI) — A government spokesman said Wednesday Jordan had captured the "third man," identified as the mastermind in the time bomb assassination of Premier Hazzah Al-Majali, and said Jordan could prove he acted with approval of Egypt's Gamal Abdel Nasser.

But he bounded back a little later with a complaint the Congo had not been consulted about U.N. moves. He suggested "incidents would have been avoided if from the beginning a spirit of cooperation had existed between representatives of the United Nations and those of the government of the republic."

Two other suspects in the case were reported to have fled to Damascus and been given asylum in the Syrian region of the United Arab Republic. Jordanian officials were preparing a formal note to the U.A.R. demanding their extradition.

Government officials did not name the "third man." They said he was not employed by the Jordanian government but supplied the bombs and instructed his two assistants on how to install the bombs in the foreign ministry.

The bombs apparently were intended for King Hussein too.

The officials said they would show that the third man received money and explosives from Syria with the knowledge of Nasser and that they would try to prove the bombing a terrorist act carried out after attempts by the U.A.R. to overthrow Hussein had failed.

A spokesman said the "third man" had made a preliminary confession.

A number of other arrests by Jordanian authorities were made but these arrests were covered with secrecy.

United Nations Ambassador Pier Spinelli flew into Amman Wednesday for talks with Hussein believed aimed at preventing a major international crisis over the assassination. Spinelli, special representative of U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, asked for an immediate appointment with the king.

Already Middle East tensions were building up. There were unconfirmed reports of Syrian group concentrations along the border but informed sources discounted those. They noted the reports originated in Israel.

The Russians also objected to a U.N. plan to keep Belgian specialists at two big Congo bases.

The Soviet move came after Hammarskjold had protested to the Belgian government against delay in getting the last Belgian combat troops out of the troubled African country.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasili V. Kuznetsov demanded that Hammarskjold not only get the remaining Belgian forces, totaling about 600, out of the Congo but that he get rid of an equal number of technicians at Kamina and Katona, bases which have just been taken over by the United Nations.

Howard Jackson, Former Baltimore Mayor, Dies

BALTIMORE (AP) — Howard Jackson, who served as mayor of Baltimore for 16 years, longer than any other man, died in his sleep Wednesday at the age of 83. Jackson had been ill for several weeks. The nature of the illness was not known.

A Democrat who was a bluff, tough-minded and practical party man, Jackson was mayor in 1923-27, then served three more terms consecutively from 1931 to 1943. Since then, he had been relatively inactive in politics.

He never realized his life-long ambition to become governor. His first try, against Dr. C. H. Conley of Frederick in 1934, ended abjectly when the popular incumbent, Gov. Albert C. Ritchie, announced he would seek reelection.

Jackson withdrew before the primary, explaining he felt that "a three-cornered fight would injure the party."

Four years later he tried again and lost the Democratic nomination to the then attorney general, Herbert R. O'Connor, by a slim margin. O'Connor subsequently was elected governor.

A man with a naturally zestful nature, Jackson was a confirmed "joiner" of fraternal organizations.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a. m. Saturday at the Wilson Memorial Methodist Church.

Eastern Shore Boy's Holstein Wins At Fair

TIMONIUM, Md. (AP) — A tall, slim Eastern Shore farm boy won the grand championship Wednesday in the judging of 4-H Holstein dairy cattle at the State Fair.

William V. Riggs III, of Centreville, Queen Anne's County, won both the senior and grand championships with a 4-year-old cow he has shown in several other shows during the past two years.

The judging of Holstein and Guernsey cattle wound up the showing of the 4-H and Future Farmers of America cattle division at the fair. On Thursday the judges will turn their attention to beef cattle, swine and sheep.

In the Guernsey division, the grand champion was a 2-year-old cow shown by Adele Brown of Port Deposit, Cecil County.

Riggs said he has shown cattle in 4-H competition at the State Fair for five years. He said he placed fifth with the same cow in open judging at the fair last year and won the championship at the Queen Anne's County 4-H Fair.

This was his first grand championship at the State Fair.

The fact that this is a presidential election year hasn't escaped notice at the fair. Both major parties have set up booths along the midway.

Fyle Symington, the Republican candidate for Congress from the 2nd Legislative District, showed up earlier this week and a GOP spokesman said he probably will make several more visits.

His Democratic opponent, Rep. Daniel B. Brewster, president of the fair, has been busy in Washington so far this week but presumably will make at least one visit to the fair.

Party workers at the two booths spend their time handing out campaign buttons and literature to passers-by.

A Democratic spokesman said appearances at the fair will be made by such party luminaries as Gov. Tawes; J. Harold Grady, mayor of Baltimore; State Democratic Chairman Thomas B. Finan; Michael J. Birmingham, former Baltimore County executive, and perhaps — although the chances are slim — Sen. John F. Kennedy, Democratic presidential nominee.

On the Republican side, appearances are expected by former congressman James P. S. Devereux and former governor Theodore R. McKeldin.

Congoese Held For Beatings

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — The Congo army commander said Wednesday a number of Congolese civilians have been arrested on charges of starting the panic that resulted in a mob attack on eight U.S. airmen and two Canadians Saturday.

Gen. Victor Lundula said those arrested will face military trial. The Americans and Canadians were beaten with clubs and gun butts when they landed at Stanleyville with equipment for the United Nations. They were rescued by Ethiopians of the U.N. force. The men were hospitalized but were flown to Tripoli Wednesday night.

Lundula in his report said rumors and fake orders to Congolese soldiers contributed to the incident. He did not explain who gave the false orders.

Five Men Seized In Raid On Still

SALISBURY (AP) — Five Eastern Shore men were held under bond Wednesday on moonshining charges after they were arrested in a raid on a Dorchester County still.

The five waived a preliminary hearing when they were arraigned before U.S. Commissioner John B. Robins on charges of violating federal liquor laws.

Vivian Henson Farrare, 51, of Cambridge was held under $2,500 bond, while bond was set at $1,500 for the other four — Lord Monroe Johnson, 61, of Rhodesdale, Morris Victor Brown, 23, of Salisbury, Victor Molock Stanley, 32, of Hurlock and Brown Janney, 54, of Rising Sun. All but Janney are Negroes.

All five were taken to the Wicomico County Jail pending action by the U.S. District Court.

Federal, State and county officers participated in the raid on Johnson's property near Cambridge.

Former U.S. Intelligence Officer Works For Reds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A one-time under assumed names from time U.S. intelligence officer is now working behind the Iron Curtain for the Soviet government, probably as an adviser on Latin American affairs, it was disclosed Wednesday.

He was identified in a State Department document, inserted in the Congressional Record, as Dr. Maurice H. Halperin, who during World War II was chief of Latin American intelligence for the Office of Strategic Services (OSS).

The report said Halperin was supplying the Soviets with U.S. intelligence information, to which he had access in the OSS, as early as 1942.

The document also showed he was fired from the faculty of Boston University after he refused to tell Senate investigators in 1953 whether he ever had been a member of the Communist Party.

The State Department also revealed that Halperin helped Alfred K. Stern and Martha Dodd Stern — who were indicted in 1957 for conspiring to pass secret U.S. information to Russia — in their escape from Mexico.

The Sterns were named by a U.S. counter-spy in 1957 as key members of a Soviet spy ring.

Stern is a former New York investment banker, and his wife is the daughter of a former U.S. ambassador to Germany.

The State Department report said that Halperin and his wife, Edith, have been in Russia since December, 1958, having flown

Arson Attempt Ends In Death

CLEVELAND, Tenn. (UPI) — A young mother of four died Wednesday of burns received when she and her husband set fire to their three-room house for $1,500 insurance, police said.

Assistant Police Chief French Alford said Glenn Henry Johnson, 35, a laborer, was held without charge pending an investigation by a fire marshal. His wife, Joyce, 30, died in Bradley Hospital of multiple burns suffered in the fire Wednesday.

The blaze engulfed Johnson, his wife and their 4-year-old son, Kim. Johnson and the boy suffered minor burns. Another child, a babe in arms, was unburnt. Two other children were elsewhere.

Officers said Johnson had put a candle on the floor of one of the rooms in the small frame house where the family lived.

After drenching the place with gasoline, the candle was to be lit.

Johnson said he and the family then planned to drive to Murphy, N.C. to visit relatives, Alford said. The Johnsons planned to be miles away by the time the house.

Three-Way Rail Merger Vital, NYC Head Declares

BALTIMORE (AP) — A three-way merger of the New York Central, Chesapeake & Ohio and Baltimore & Ohio railroads is vital to provide an Eastern competitor to the Pennsylvania "empire," the president of the NYC said.

Alfred E. Perlman sought to gain support for his three-way proposal among 300 members of the Baltimore Advertising Club.

The club called a special meeting to hear Perlman so it "may be informed," President James Everett said, on the current struggle between the NYC and C&O to buy a majority of the B&O stock.

Walter Tuohy, president of the C&O, has repeatedly stated he is not interested at this time in the three-way move. It has the endorsement of Howard E. Simpson, president of the B&O.

The C&O is offering to buy 80 per cent of the B&O stock to be eventually consummated by a merger. The NYC is proposing to repurchase slightly more than 50 per cent of the voting stock, but Perlman said he is "still hopeful" that the C&O will make it a three-way deal.

"It would be in the greatest public interest and in the interests of the three railroads," he said.

Perlman said the Pennsylvania, with which the NYC also had discussed possible affiliation, is threatening to dominate the East by already controlling or in the process of controlling "half of the railroad systems in the East."

"Unless other railroads merge in some way to offset the overpowering strength of the Pennsylvania," Perlman said, "we will not have a balanced competitive railroad system in the East."

Perlman's visit to Baltimore followed two visits by Tuohy in the contest to gain local backing in the issue which is expected to be resolved within the next couple of weeks.

Tuohy sought to convince Baltimore interests the C&O move would be better because its facilities "complement" the B&O and Department to get an explanation of rules governing use of impounded water for swimming.

The question was raised Wednesday at a meeting of the committee set up by the 1960 General Assembly to find out ways of speeding up development of recreational facilities in state parks.

Committee members said they wanted a full explanation of the health department rules after Joseph F. Kaylor, director of State forests and parks, told them that park officials encouraged bathing and boating on park waters whenever possible.

FERNDALE, Md. (AP) — A 2-year-old boy injured in a traffic accident Wednesday was kept alive by five Anne Arundel County policemen after he stopped breathing on two occasions.

Remodeling And Renovating Of Old Churches Increases, Presents Challenge

By CLAIRE COX

NEW YORK (UPI) — The churches are cleaning house.The multi-million-dollar a year church building boom has been accompanied by a flurry of activity in remodeling and renovating old structures.The work has ranged from an inexpensive paint job to a $100,000

renovation of a large midwestern church, with an average expenditure of about $30,000. Donald Plouff, executive vice president of the Studios of Potentia, Kenosha, Wis., and Pietrasanta, Italy, has participated in the remodeling of about 500 churches the economic situation. They have big renovations are under way since World War II. Most have bought all the new cars they can. They live well. They dress well. They are ministers in their late 20's or early 30's. They get out and help in bringing old structures up to date. Plouff said many churches had of seminaries and find their first church in poor condition. They regard the church as an evangelistic sales tool. In another 10 years, there are going to be more young men and more renovating.

Plouff said experts in his field are continually correcting the errors made in building. "I am continually disgusted when churches were built 60 or 100 years ago. Many small altars are being improved into churches," Plouff said.

Five Monkeys Being Trained For Space Trip

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — One of five monkeys now being trained at the University of Texas will be chosen for this country's first attempt to put an animal in orbit, the Air Force revealed Tuesday.

In late October the Air Force plans to put a monkey carrying a rocket into orbit and try to recover the animal alive.

The monkeys at the university are of the Rhesus variety.

Two Rhesus monkeys, Sam and Miss Sam, were shot into space last year and early this year in the nose cones of Army rockets, but the rockets were not intended to go into orbit.

Sam and Miss Sam returned to earth safely and were returned from space exploration for observation.

The Texas-trained monkey will go up from Vandenberg, Calif., Force Base in the Discoverer XVI shot, Tuesday's announcement from Brooks Air Force Base said.

The Air Force will use the same system used to recover the instrument-filled capsule from Discoverer XIV earlier this month.

In that experiment, an Air Force C119 transport used a trapeze-like device to snare the capsule over the Pacific.

University of Texas scientists train the monkeys to pull a lever when they see a cue light.

A similar lever in the rocket will send out a radio signal showing the monkey is still alive and able to respond.

Woman To Woman

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — Delegates to the eighth world congress of the International Society for the Welfare of Cripples stopped talking about rehabilitation of humans — to listen to a rehabilitated piano.

No piano anywhere has a history like that instrument, "the immortal piano."

Musical historians say it was built about 1800 by the Marchisio family of Turin, Italy. It had sounds so unique that various legends sprang up about it.

In fact, the sounds made by this piano were so heavenly that the instrument eventually was called "l'arpa del de Davide," — King David's harp.

By the time the piano was nearly 70 years old, it was still much admired — and well-traveled. It was a sensation at the Paris Exposition in 1867. Franz Liszt played it. So did Brahms, Saint-Saens and others.

In the late 1800's, the much-loved piano with its Renaissance-style carvings representing the city of Siena, cradle of the Renaissance, was given by the people of Siena to Crown Prince Umberto and Princess Margherita, soon to become king and queen of Italy.

All was well for the immortal piano until World War II when the cherished instrument vanished mysteriously from Italy.

With the defeat of the Germans in Africa, the British mine-sweepers found in El-Alamein, an old piano — or something of the sort, they thought — encased in plaster.

It looked rather precious, even though an eye-sore, so it wasn't assigned to the trash pile. Eventually the strange-looking plastered piano made its way — with the help of humans — to Israel.

Prison Release Plan Paying Dividends

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The director of Maryland's Parole and Probation Department reported Tuesday that an experiment in releasing reformatory inmates under supervision ahead of schedule is paying "good dividends."

"We are helping a substantial number to adjust who would not otherwise have had the help of a parole officer upon release," Wallace Reid told the Congress of Correction meeting here.

A graduate of Juilliard School of Music, he has won several prizes, one of which — the Philadelphia Youth Contest award — occasioned his successful debut with the Philadelphia Orchestra under Eugene Ormandy in 1954.

Traffic Deaths Continue Rise

CHICAGO (UPI) — The National Safety Council reported Tuesday that traffic accidents claimed the lives of 3,450 persons during July in the United States.

The July toll marked the fourth straight month of an increase in the traffic death toll, and was a boost of 200, or six per cent, over the 3,250 fatalities recorded in July, 1959.

The council said it was the per month given them for working outside the institution.

But those released on their own do not have to report to a parole officer and do not have the benefit of his guidance in finding jobs and adjusting to civilian life again he said.

second biggest July toll on record, exceeded only by the 3,555 deaths in July, 1956.

Highway deaths for the first 540 by the July total, an increase seven months of the year, of one per cent over the 20,350 in council said, were boosted to 20, the same period of 1959.

State's Taxes May Be Higher In Three Years

BALTIMORE (AP) — The chief fiscal adviser to the Maryland Legislature said Tuesday night that state income will equal expenses this year, but within two more years higher taxes will be needed or reserve funds will be exhausted.

John S. Shriner, head of the Fiscal Research Bureau, said all indications now are that the demands of government will eat into reserves next year and require new revenue in fiscal 1963.

Shriner's analysis was given to the Legislative Council Committee on Taxation and Fiscal Matters studying proposed changes in the state's fiscal structure.

Shriner said, on the basis of current fiscal reports, he could foresee general fund revenues as high as $230 million for the current year. The present official forecast by the Board of Revenue Estimates calls for $222 million. But W. Irvin Young, chief of the forecasting bureau, has said that figure will be revised upward.

The bureau's figures are used by the governor in drafting his annual budget.

The current budget is balanced by the commitment of about $11 million from surplus.

Shriner said that "if the cycle of the past continues, the next fiscal year will be a bad one in terms of revenue."

"I see no possibility of revenues for 1962 equaling the budget for that year," he added.

This situation would require the governor and General Assembly to use some of the $12 million surplus set aside for a rainy day.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Proposals will be received by the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland at the office of the City Clerk, City Hall, Cumberland, Maryland, until but not after September 12, 1960, at 10:00 o'clock A.M. Local Time. At 10:00 o'clock on said date, they will be publicly opened and read. Proposals must be submitted in duplicate in a sealed envelope endorsed, "PROPOSAL FOR THE RENTAL OF TWO-WAY RADIO EQUIPMENT FOR THE CITY OF CUMBERLAND, MD."

If mailed, it must be enclosed in an outer envelope addressed to the City Clerk, City Hall, Cumberland, Maryland, and similarly endorsed.

Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check or bid bond in the amount of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00).

The work includes furnishing all equipment, material, installations, and maintenance of the Two-Way Radio System and associated equipment. Filing of the proper forms to the Federal Communications Commission for the station license is required by the Federal Communications Commission. Install and maintain all equipment in accordance with the Federal Communications Commission's rules and regulations.

The City of Cumberland will not be required by the successful bidder to pay any more than the fixed monthly rate set forth in the contract for the rental of all equipment, installation and maintenance of the equipment and associated equipment. The maintenance is to include all labor and material for the proper maintenance of the equipment.

The City will incur all costs of the Public Utility facilities required for the operation of the Two-Way Radio System.

The City will reserve the right to accept or reject any or all bids, and to accept any proposal which in its judgment is to the best interest of the City.

Powers Indicts GOP At Democratic Rally Here

Thomas Powers, 31-year-old Bethesda attorney, Tuesday night indicted the Republican administration during his talk at a rally of the Allegany County Democratic Party at the Eagles home.

Powers, who not only was an excellent athlete while at Allegany High School but ranked high scholastically, told the 150 party workers that "eight years ago a great soldier started out on a grand crusade. Now it is stalled in the middle of the road with only its empty slogans, unfilled promises, faulty leadership remaining."

The young attorney, who will likely come here for other talks during the election campaign, took a look backward at the Eisenhower administration's term in office.

"There was a promise that the best brains in the country would be brought into the administration, yet one man named ambassador to a Far East country did not even know the name of the head of that country."

Alluding to the famous statement that the government under Eisenhower would be "clean as a hound's tooth," Powers said the opposite has proven true.

"It has turned into a government soiled by betrayal of public trust and pursuit of gain by the Talbots, Adams and the Doerfers."

Powers also referred to Eisenhower's promise of balanced budgets by the commitment of about $11 million from surplus.

Shriner said that "if the cycle of the past continues, the next fiscal year will be a bad one in terms of revenue."

"I see no possibility of revenues for 1962 equaling the budget for that year," he added.

This situation would require the governor and General Assembly to use some of the $12 million surplus set aside for a rainy day.

"We have no doubt that it is time for a return to the dynamic and progressive leadership of the Democratic Party which brought Social Security to the aged and widowed, electricity to the farm people and rice for sale."

DETROIT (UPI) — Mayor Louis C. Miriani Wednesday challenged the mayors of 10 other large U.S. cities to compete with Detroit in a "good citizenship" drive to register voters for the November election.

He said the contest would be "strictly nonpartisan" and that Detroit would provide a trophy to be presented to the winning city.

South Carolina was the first province of the new world to plant rice for sale.

Lindner Winner At Fair

John H. Lindner, local apriarist, won the grand championship of the State Fair at Timonium with his exhibition in the honey contest.

It was the fourth straight title that Lindner has won in the state competition. His championship was in the large beekeeper's section.

A neighbor of Lindner's, C. Edward O'Donnell, won the championship in the small beekeeper's division.

Today, the tractor driving contest at the fair will be held with Merwin Hast, Rocky Gap Road, representing Allegany County.

Young Hast will be accompanied to the Timonium event by James Arnold, assistant Allegany County farm agent. Hast won the tractor driving title of Allegany County.

Donna Simpson, of Cresaptown, has entered an exhibit of canned goods in the state event. She has been prominent in 4-H Club work in recent years.

Theme booths have been entered in the State Fair program by the Baltimore Pike and Breakneck Road 4-H Clubs.

Thomas B. Finan, state party chairman, opened the session in the absence of William L. Wilson, who was detained for about an hour as he was attending the County United Fund Golden Gifts dinner.

Finan gave a resume of the coming campaign and told the group that the Republicans can not name a single piece of legislation which they have instituted to help the average working man. The Democrats on the other hand have given the people Social Security and the other economic aids during the past 25 years.

William Walsh, head of the Young Democrats of Allegany County, told the gathering that the organization which he heads will join in the drive to enroll every eligible voter possible under the Democratic banner.

Goren On Bridge

East-West vulnerable. North by leading low toward dummy. West ducked, and the jack went to East's ace. On the return of the three of hearts, South put up the king and West refused to take it.

Much too late, declarer realized that building up the diamond suit was futile. That West holds a high diamond for entry should be assumed, for West knowing from the return of the trey that his partner has no more hearts, nevertheless refused to take the trick. He must therefore be confident of obtaining the lead to cash his established hearts.

There remained one distant hope of fulfillment, which involved dropping a doubleton queen of spades. Declarer made the try and was set two tricks.

At another table, South felt that development of the diamonds was not the best chance. He reasoned that the contract would almost surely be defeated if West had a five card heart suit, for the defense would take three hearts and two diamonds. It is true that attacking the diamond suit would yield sufficient tricks to bring home the contract, if West had the ten and East had the ace and king, but he considered that to be an extremely remote holding.

He decided, instead, to play East for both missing spade honors, and therefore put up the jack of hearts on the opening lead. When it held, he led the jack of spades, which was covered by East and won by South. Dummy was reentered by means of the ace of clubs, and the nine of spades was led through to pick up all four tricks in the suit.

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

W. Va. Farm Bureau Elects Officers

JACKSON'S MILL, W. Va. (UPI) — A Lewis County dairy farmer was elected Wednesday as new president of the West Virginia Farm Bureau.

Paul May of Jane Lew succeeds R. a y m o n d Balenger of Bunker Hill, Berkeley County, who did not seek re-election after five years in the post.

The selection came during the final session of the annual three-day meeting of the organization here.

Also named were two new state board of director members, William T. Milleon and Mrs. David Long, both of Romney. Mrs. Long will also serve as the Farm Bureau's women's director, replacing Mrs. Otha Roberts of Uniontown, Wetzel County.

Phoenix, capital of Arizona's Valley of the Sun resort region, is one of the few places in America where dates are grown commercially.

Ann Landers . . . Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a morning when my head is clear lonesome widow, 58, in excellent I'll never mail it.

I'm 19 and share an apartment with a cousin who is 23. We are it keeps me alive. I'd shrivel up both beauty operators living away from home. My folks let me leave Manitowoc and go to Milwaukee to work because they had so much faith in my older cousin.

Well tonight I left the movie early because I had a headache. When I got home I walked right in on my cousin and a real hoody-looking guy. They were very embarrassed, and believe me they had a right to be.

Now, Ann, I just can't continue to live with my cousin after this. Shall I tell my folks the whole story? They'll never be able to understand why I moved out, if I don't explain. Help, and soon, please.—BUNDLE OF NERVES

DEAR BUNDLE: Keep your sordid story to your family it will place your cousin in an impossible position. In years to come you'll be happy you kept quiet.

Suggest to your cousin that since SHE created this unfortunate problem she should accept the responsibility of finding new living quarters, rather than place the burden on you. Then seek another roommate—a girl whose moral standards match your own more closely.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm worried about our son who just turned 17. He has always been serious-minded, a great reader and an outstanding student. Lately never had time for girls and he made no secret of it.

Suddenly his personality has taken on a new shape. He spends long periods of time on the telephone. He takes great pains to comb his hair just so. Recently bought himself a nail file and last night I saw him shining his shoes. I hope this doesn't mean an end to his school work and studying.

My husband says it's just a phase. Is he right?

—STANDING BY

DEAR STANDING BY: It's a phase all right and with a little luck it may last 60 years. A boy 17 should be noticing girls. This doesn't necessarily mean he'll become less serious-minded. It

Benson Hits Critics

CHICAGO (UPI) — Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson Wednesday said the farm problem should not be a political issue.

"There are a few who think the way to win favor with rural people is by promises of unsound, unworkable, pie-in-the-sky policies and programs," Benson said in a speech prepared for delivery at the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce's agriculture-business conference.

"But farm people are not on the auction block," Benson said.

Local Youths Causing Damage To Flood Control Project

The city's Flood Maintenance Department and Cumberland Police Department have instituted plans for a closer observation of the local flood project in an attempt to stop a serious problem caused by local youths.

Police Chief B. F. Gaffney and Charles R. Nuzum, city engineer who also is superintendent of flood maintenance, yesterday conferred on steps which will be taken to prevent damage to the flood project, and the removal of rip-rap stones from levees.

Nuzum said considerable time and labor have been spent recently in correcting such damage to levee walls. Youths, he explained, have been ripping up the large stones and rolling them down into the bed of Wills Creek.

Rip-rap covering is essential to the upkeep of the flood project since such stones are placed as a blanket on fills to protect against wave wash and resultant erosion.

Each stone taken from the levee walls must be retrieved and returned to its original position, Nuzum said. Such work is time-consuming and expensive, the superintendent pointing out that men are tied up when they have to "manhandle" the large heavy stones up the steep walls of the levees.

Youths also have been using the levee walls as sliding boards, Nuzum stated, explaining that cardboard panels have been used to slide down the slopes. This practice likewise leads to erosion since it wears out the grass.

Chief Gaffney said members of his department have been conducting routine inspections of the flood project, but that they have experienced difficulty in apprehending trespassers since the youths flee at the sight of patrol cars.

A more frequent schedule of inspections will take place, the chief said, and trespassers will be prosecuted in Juvenile Court. Every effort will be taken, he continued, to see that damage to the multi-million-dollar facility is kept at a minimum.

Inspectors of the flood project have been asked to contact police headquarters when violations are observed, and residents of the areas near the levee walls also will be asked to cooperate in calling attention to the trespassing.

Raw sewage is dumped into Wills Creek, Nuzum said, and swimmers easily can contract serious diseases. Parents should be warned to caution their children in the lower part of Wills Creek stream, he said.

Small Payment On A Big Debt

Belatedly, the United States has rewarded the man mainly responsible for the early stages of rocket development in this country. Dr. Robert H. Goddard pioneered in rocket-powered space vehicles 50 years ago, in an age when the automobile was still a joke to a population which was sure old Dobbin would never be replaced.

To talk of going to the moon in a rocket was to be ridiculed, but Dr. Goddard predicted such a flight and went on with the development of crude, and not always successful, rockets powered by liquid fuel. By 1916, the Massachusetts physicist was concentrating on multiple stage rockets and a rocket-propelled artillery shell—the forerunner of the bazooka.

Gradually some of the scientific fraternity began to see the value in Dr. Goddard's experiments and the Smithsonian Institution began to finance some of his research. By 1926, he had succeeded in firing liquid-fueled rockets over short distances and had written a scientific paper entitled, "A Method of Reaching Extreme Altitudes."

Throughout this period, Dr. Goddard tried vainly to interest the government in rocketry. During World War II, the Germans applied many principles stated in his paper to their own rocket development, with noted success. It was not until the Russian threat of superiority in space adventures that the United States gave serious attention to rocket research, and even then most of the foundation had been provided years earlier by Dr. Goddard.

Dr. Goddard did not live to see the future he knew was coming, nor did he receive much encouragement or recognition from his countrymen. It is with a guilty conscience that Congress has voted a $1 million contribution to the Guggenheim foundation—which aided Dr. Goddard in some of his activities—in memory of the "father of rocketry."

Conservatives

Both political parties include Conservatives as they do Liberals and Progressives. These terms are not positive. Their meaning changes constantly. Certainly Benjamin Disraeli would not recognize the Conservative Party of Great Britain today any more than Mark Hanna would recognize the Republican Party. The labels remain, the inherent meaning, the objectives, the purposes change.

There are those who always use the phrase, "Times change." Times, of course, do not change; the calendar goes its merry way in utter disregard of the virtues or foibles of human beings. It is people who are different. They are different by personal habits, by education, by occupation, by geography.

The American, for instance, who left this town of Sandisfield in Massachusetts before the Civil War, was a descendant of Englishmen who settled in Hartford, Connecticut. They came into the wilderness of these mountains to fight Indians and to win personal independence by unbelievable hard work. The stone walls of my farm are living evidence of the backbreaking work those men did to earn a living; the old cemetery on my farm tells of the wives who died early fighting the battle of life alongside their husbands.

Some of their descendants, who had learned how to make a remarkable Cheddar cheese, which went by the name of store cheese, moved away to Oneida County in New York State. And some of their descendants moved to Ohio and westward.

These people were not seeking assurances; they took great risks to find life. When one lives among some of them hereabout who are in their 80s and 90s, he discovers a wild breath of independence. Here is no average, no generality, no conformity. It is still each man for himself. But not so with the younger generations who have worked in factories and in organized jobs in the woods and on modern road building and who know their place in the presence of a foreman or a shop steward. Some of the girls work in the towns hereabouts, in chain stores, and they pretty themselves up the same as city girls do, and they know from television what cosmetics to use and what deodorants. And instead of going to church on Sunday to listen to long sermons, they sleep off Saturday night's carousal.

These are the same hills; the same sky; the same trees; the same dirt roads. But the people have been made different by the central town school instead of the Red Schoolhouse; by reading paper-back books instead of Horatio Alger, by knowing that they will get protection from the state if they are out of work. Maybe life is easier, particularly for the women, but something of the flame has gone out of them. Their ancestors were a rebellious people who, even in the Presidency of George Washington, insisted on having their own way and fought it out in Shay's Rebellion. But these days, hereabouts, the great question at issue is whether a grinder is better if made fresh or if got frozen in a chain store.

Eliminating the cliché about changing times, we must wonder what has produced so different a race of people upon this continent than were here in the 1860s. Neither the Conservative nor the Liberal wants to go back to the customs and habits of the 1860s or the 1890s, but the Conservative is astonished, if not dismayed, by the habits of thought, the concepts of morals, the acceptance of improprieties, the lack of respect for men or institutions in the 1960s.

The Conservative asks whether it is necessary to be physically dirty to be progressive in thought. The Conservative wonders whether it is necessary to use broken English to be stylistic; whether women have to wear short-shorts in public to prove equality with unshaved men. It is not only a question of philosophy, but of manners, of ways of life, of propriety. Is it necessary that divorce be so general and broken homes so usual to prove that we are a liberal people?

These are the questions that the Conservative asks. For instance, he cannot understand why those public officials who were 100 per cent wrong in their evaluation of the Castro Revolution in Cuba should be continued in the State Department just as he cannot understand how the debasement of our currency improves our economic position or how outpricing ourselves in world markets improves our economy.

North Will React To South's Anti-Catholicism

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON
The rising anti-Catholic agitation in the South, which is already beginning to recall 1928, is obviously aimed to take the South's votes away from Sen. John F. Kennedy. In reality, however, it is an equally painful problem for Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

It goes without saying that if Nixon benefits in the South by this increasingly sharp outburst of anti-Catholicism, he will be an entirely involuntary beneficiary. He has had nothing whatever to do with it. He has even directed all of his campaign workers never to mention the so-called religious issue in private talk.

In the same fashion, former President Herbert Hoover was also an involuntary beneficiary of the vicious attack on Alfred E. Smith's religious faith. Yet anyone who studies the returns from the 1928 election can quite easily see that Hoover's innocence was almost irrelevant. Besides producing important but temporary Republican gains in the South, the anti-Catholic outburst in 1928 caused heavy and more enduring Republican losses in the North.

Prior to 1928, many of the nation's big cities, like Chicago, had been traditionally controlled by Republican city machines. After 1928 the Republican Party had all but sunk from sight in every big city in the country except Philadelphia and Cincinnati, where Republicans lingered on for a while. The reason for this grave setback was the Northern Catholic reaction to the anti-Catholicism in the South. The bleak fact of the agitation itself, without regard to Hoover's innocence or responsibility, was what affected the Northern Catholics that year.

In 1928, it is also well to remember, Roman Catholics constituted only 10 per cent of the voting population. Today they constitute 25 per cent, with the heaviest concentrations in the great industrial states which any winning Presidential candidate must carry.

Because of this, six of President Eisenhower's messages were not delivered to the House, although they were presented to the busily-active Senate. Most important of these was Mr. Eisenhower's 21-point message of legislatures are still unaware of the anti-Catholic outburst in the South. Sen. John F. Kennedy has by no means won back all the Republi-cans voting Catholics.

So far as this reporter can learn by doorbell-ringing, Kennedy's chance of winning back any individual Republican-voting Catholic quite largely depends on the individual's date of migration to the Republican Party. If the first Republican vote was cast in 1956, a return to the Democratic fold is highly probable. If the date was 1952, it is much less probable, and so it goes, back to 1940.

This means that in 1956, Eisenhower secured a commanding lead among all New York state's Catholics from the lower middle-income level upward. Today, moreover, when Northern Catholics becomes aware of the anti-Catholic outburst in the South, the bitter political rivalry engendered by the Presidential nominating sessions caused some unusual occurrences.

On the first day a Republican Congressman forced adjournment by demanding a quorum, which is required for the House to conduct business. On succeeding days, with the necessary number of Congressmen obviously absent from the Capitol, Democrats beat Republicans to the draw by adjourning the House before a quorum call could be requested.

Because of this, six of President Eisenhower's messages were not delivered to the House, although they were presented to the busily-active Senate. Most important of these was Mr. Eisenhower's 21-point message of legislative requests, which many Democrats viewed as a document which could not be fulfilled in a full session of Congress.

The epidemic of absenteeism in the House sent some of the more curious to the record books to see whether any new precedents had been set. But it was found that the week of small numbers present was small potatoes indeed.

For instance, when the first House tried to assemble in New York on March 4, 1789, it took 28 days to get a quorum, or half the membership, present. A Senate majority was not achieved for 33 days.

It was not until April 6 of that year that both houses were ready to transact their major business, declaring the electoral vote for the first President of the United States—George Washington.

In recent years, furthermore, the lips and fingernails turn blue. Nausea, vomiting, lethargy, and coma may follow in short order.

To eliminate any of the drug that is not absorbed, the stomach is flushed out. This is done by giving milk, soda bicarbonate in water, or the universal antacid and making the child gag.

Diamox, a remedy for dropsy is used also in salicylate poisoning. The artificial kidney is a more dramatic treatment because the child's blood is routed through the apparatus where the salicylate is removed faster than the kidneys can do. The purified blood returns to the body and in a short time the youngster is rid of the poison.

TOMORROW: Heart attack in the offing.

Blood transfusions are required because the blood forming organs have gone on strike and refuse to manufacture new cells. The victim becomes critically ill and if the cause cannot be found and eliminated, symptoms must be treated as they arise. Penicillin may be needed if infection develops. Whizzer White, former gridiron star, has been added to the Kennedy campaign team. Apparently, Jack isn't taking any chances, what with the election coming smack in the middle of the football season.

Nixon's Choice Of Lodge To Settle Mideast Strife Is Campaign Blooper

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Vice President Nixon, who has played it extremely smart so far in this campaign, pulled his first blooper last week. He told the Zionist Organization of America that he would send Henry Cabot Lodge, his Vice Presidential running mate, to the Middle East to settle problems between Israel and the Arab states—if elected.

This may have sounded like a master stroke to some people, but there is nobody in American diplomacy who is considered by Zionists more anti-Israel than the same Henry Cabot Lodge. The Zionists bitterly distrust him, and Nixon has every reason to know it. Hence, his blooper could very well mean that New York state, where the Jewish vote is heavy, will go Democratic.

Paradoxically, Nixon has made all sorts of overtures to woo the Zionist vote. Yet he proposed as the man to settle the dynamite-laden Middle East problem the diplomat who was considered Nasser's chief champion during the Suez-Israel crisis of 1956.

France, England and Israel, it will be recalled, had sent troops into Suez in 1956 as a result of Nasser's seizure of the Suez Canal. Prime Minister Ben-Gurion, whose ships had been blocked from passing through Suez, hesitated about pulling out his troops without concrete guarantees for future Suez transit.

Johnson On Other Side
At this point Ambassador Lodge was the man who fought him hardest in the UN, even favored punitive measures against Israel. In one private White House conference it was Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas who clashed personally with Lodge. Johnson, now Democratic candidate for Vice President, had gone to the White House during the Suez crisis to urge that the administration drop punitive proposals against Israel. Eisenhower had summoned Lodge from New York to participate in the meeting.

"I want to know why our Ambassador to the United Nations sounds more like an Arab spokesman than a diplomat of the United States," Johnson asked Lodge to his face.

"You ignore the basic facts in this dispute," Johnson charged.

"Contrary to widespread assumptions in the United Nations and in Washington, the issue is not originally the result of Israel's invasion of Egypt. The issue was raised by Egypt's long-standing insistence on maintaining a state of war with Israel, and implementing it by both guerrilla raids and a double blockade in the Suez Canal and the Strait of Tiran.

"The United States Senate, I can tell you," Johnson warned, "will never back up any anti-Israel sanctions you may impose in the United Nations."

Note—This is one reason the American position was drastically modified before the UN. President Eisenhower also went on a nationwide telecast February 20, 1957 to tell the American people that if Nasser did not permit Israeli ships to use Suez, firm steps would be taken to make sure that he did. Since then no Israeli ships have been permitted through Suez. Three and a half years have passed and neither the United States nor the United Nations have done anything to carry out the Eisenhower pledge.

Nixon Wooed Ben-Gurion

When Prime Minister Ben-Gurion came to the United States last spring he was given a very formal, rather chilly reception at the White House. Vice President Nixon, however, invited him to his home for a kosher meal and a long talk.

Nixon told Ben-Gurion how he was moved spiritually when he placed a wreath on the memorial marking the remains of the Warsaw ghetto when he visited Warsaw last summer.

Ben-Gurion was impressed.

Later when Argentina was demanding an apology and damages from Israel for kidnapping Adolf Eichmann, the No. 1 Jewish murderer under Hitler, the Israeli Ambassador went to see Nixon, asked his help in toning down the tough position taken by Ambassador Lodge against Israel at the UN.

Nixon telephoned Lodge, asked him to soften his anti-Israel position. As a result, Lodge next day brought out a compromise which gave Israel a slap on the wrist.

The public, of course, did not know what had caused this sudden reversal. But Jewish leaders did. That's why they were flabbergasted when Nixon, without bating an eye, told the Zionist Organization in New York that Lodge would be the peacemaker for the Middle East and even cited as one qualification Lodge's settling of the "sharp differences between Israel and Argentina over the Eichmann case."

The Jewish world knew better, And Jewish leaders were indignant that Nixon should consider them so glibile.

Gestures To Israel

Nixon and Lodge are seeking a formula to win Jewish votes before November 8. Various steps will be taken. One is administration backing for a World Bank loan of $27,500,000 to Israel to build a new seaport at Ashdod, 20 miles south of Tel Aviv. Another is a gesture to support Iran in its dispute with Nasser over recognition of Israel.

These are planned to offset the fact that the Republican plank on Israel is considerably weaker than the Democratic plank. During the backstage hassling over this plank in Chicago, Charles Percy, chairman of the Platform Committee and a director of the Chase Manhattan Bank which helps finance the pro-Arab Middle East Institute, threw his weight against Israel. And Thruston Morton, GOP National chairman, also supported a watered-down Israeli plank.

On top of all this Nixon's speech before the Zionists in New York last week designating Lodge as arbiter for the Middle East, won't help a bit.

Inside Washington

By Henry Catcart

GETTING STARTED — When the House tried to reconvene for the usual post-convention session the bitter political rivalry engendered by the Presidential nominating sessions caused some unusual occurrences.

The reason for this grave setback was the Northern Catholic reaction to the anti-Catholicism in the South. The bleak fact of the agitation itself, without regard to Hoover's innocence or responsibility, was what affected the Northern Catholics that year.

In 1928, it is also well to remember, Roman Catholics constituted only 10 per cent of the voting population. Today they constitute 25 per cent, with the heaviest concentrations in the great industrial states which any winning Presidential candidate must carry.

Because of this, six of President Eisenhower's messages were not delivered to the House, although they were presented to the busily-active Senate. Most important of these was Mr. Eisenhower's 21-point message of legislative requests, which many Democrats viewed as a document which could not be fulfilled in a full session of Congress.

The epidemic of absenteeism in the House sent some of the more curious to the record books to see whether any new precedents had been set. But it was found that the week of small numbers present was small potatoes indeed.

For instance, when the first House tried to assemble in New York on March 4, 1789, it took 28 days to get a quorum, or half the membership, present. A Senate majority was not achieved for 33 days.

It was not until April 6 of that year that both houses were ready to transact their major business, declaring the electoral vote for the first President of the United States—George Washington.

In recent years, furthermore, the lips and fingernails turn blue. Nausea, vomiting, lethargy, and coma may follow in short order.

To eliminate any of the drug that is not absorbed, the stomach is flushed out. This is done by giving milk, soda bicarbonate in water, or the universal antacid and making the child gag.

Diamox, a remedy for dropsy is used also in salicylate poisoning. The artificial kidney is a more dramatic treatment because the child's blood is routed through the apparatus where the salicylate is removed faster than the kidneys can do. The purified blood returns to the body and in a short time the youngster is rid of the poison.

TOMORROW: Heart attack in the offing.

Among the 188 teachers in the county school system 37 will have master's degrees, 125 bachelor degrees and 26 will be non-degree teachers. He said the figures show a constant improvement in the educational qualifications of the total teaching staff.

Nieder Sets Olympic Mark, U.S. Shotputters Are 1-2-3

O'Brien Is Second, Long, Third; Russia Still Point Leader

By TED SMITH

ROME (AP)—Mighty Bill Nieder of the U.S. Army and the University of Kansas led the United States to the first one-two-three sweep of the 1960 Olympic Games Wednesday, winning the shot put with a record-smashing toss of 64 feet, 6 1/4 inches.

Parry O'Brien, the Los Angeles banker trying for his third straight Olympic gold medal, was second with 62 8 1/2 and Dallas Long of Phoenix, Ariz., was third at 62.

O'Brien's Olympic record of 60-11 1/4, set in Melbourne in 1956, was shattered beyond recognition while a crowd of 60,000 roared.

It was a supreme triumph for Nieder who was almost left off the American team after finishing fourth in the trials. It also was a satisfying victory over O'Brien who had called Nieder a "cow pasture performer who only does well in meets where there is no competition."

Rested an alternator after failing to make the team, Nieder set a pending world record of 65-10 in training. When Dave Davis of Canoga Park, Calif., hurt his wrist, Nieder was moved into the first team.

Although the U.S. track and field team came through as expected, the swimmers failed to break Australia's domination of the men's 400-meter freestyle and 100-meter backstroke, won once more by Murray Rose and Dave Thiele. Rose broke the Olympic record for the 400 with a 4:19.2 clocking to beat one of the strongest fields in the history of the sport. Alan Somers of Indianapolis, who set an Olympic record Tuesday in a trial heat, was fifth in a blanket finish with Japan's Tsuyoshi Yamamoto. Australia's John Konrads, Britain's Ian Black and Somers in that order. Rose won easily by about five meters.

The U.S. also set an Olympic record of 1:01.9 in the backstroke, breaking the time set Tuesday night by Bob Bennett of Encino, Calif., who was third in the final. Frank McKinney of Indianapolis won the silver medal for second place.

Thus the U.S. took for the day amounted to a gold-silver-bronze medal sweep in the shot put, a silver and bronze in the men's backstroke and an individual and team bronze medal in the modern pentathlon.

Russia Sets Pace

After six days of competition, Russia led with 164 1/2 points. The United States had 110, Germany 97, Hungary 76 1/2 and Italy 72 1/2 to round out the top five.

Promise of more points for the future was given in the heat performance of Chris Von Saltza of Saratoga, Calif., who broke the Olympic record with a 4:53.6 performance in the women's 400-meter freestyle. Mike Troy of Indiana University also smashed the Olympic mark with a 2:15.5 timing for a heat in the men's 200-meter butterfly swim.

The strong U.S. team moved its three-man entry through two rounds of preliminary heats in both the 100-meter dash and the 800-meter run. All three Americans also survived the first heats of the 400-meter hurdles, but the entire delegation was wiped out in the 5,000-meter race.

The American women's track and field team didn't fare as well as the men. The three girls were eliminated in the first heats of the 80-meter hurdles and the best U.S. performance in the broad jump final was a 16th by Willy White of Greenwood, Miss. Russia's Vera Krepikina set an Olympic record with a leap of 20 feet 10 1/2 inches for the gold medal in the broad jump, besting the defending champion from Poland, E. Krezesinska.

Armin Hary of Germany, co-holder of the world 100-meter record, exploded with his patented start as the crowd yelled "ho" and wiped off the books the Olympic record shared by five Americans.

Sime Is Second

Off like a flash, Hary won his second round heat from fast-closing Dave Sime of Durham, N.C., and was credited with 10.2. Sime was timed in 10.3, equaling the old Olympic mark first set by Eddie Tolan in 1932 and equaled by Jesse Owens in 1936. Harrison Dillard in 1948 and Bobby Morrow and Ira Murchison in 1956.

The first three in each second round heat qualified for the semifinals and all three Americans came through. Sime was clocked in 10.3 behind Hary, Ray Norton of Oakland, Calif., finished third in his heat in 10.6 which was won by Horacio Esteves of Venezuela in 10.5. Frank Bude of Asbury Park, N.J., won his heat in 10.4.

This was the first day of track and field competition.

The hopes of Lt. Bob Beck of San Diego, Calif., of winning the individual modern pentathlon title were dashed when he faltered in the cross-country run and Ferenc Nementz of Hungary took the crown with 5,024 points.

Erno Nagy, another Hungarian, was second with 4,988 followed by Beck with 4,981—a bronze medal the United States never expected to win.

Hungary took the pentathlon team title with 14,863 points followed by Russia with 14,309 and the United States with 14,174 for another bronze medal.

In the second round of the 800, with the first three in each heat of 124,

OLYMPIC CHAMP — U. S. Army Lt. Bill Nieder won the Olympic shotput championship in Rome yesterday. The former Kansas star set a new Olympic record with a toss of 64 feet, 6 1/4 inches.

Yanks Trade Shutouts With Kansas City

Stafford, Garver Victors, 1-0, 6-0

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees and the Kansas City Athletics traded shutouts Wednesday, the A's taking the nightcap of the doubleheader 6-0 after rookie Bill Stafford blanked them 1-0 on four hits in the open-

The veteran Ned Garver baffled the Yankee batters in the second game as the Athletics nicked Ralph Terry for two runs in the sixth on three walks and a single. Then they got to Duke Maas, who relieved Terry at the start of the eighth, for four hits and three more runs in that inning and two hits and a final run in the ninth.

Garver has a 6-21 lifetime record against the Yankees. Wednesday was the first time he ever shut them out.

Terry allowed only three hits in the seven innings he worked, but one of them was Russ Snyder's single with the bases loaded.

Garver greeted Maas in the eighth with a single, and before the inning was over Jerry Lumpe and Norm Siebern also had singled. Andy Carey had doubled, and Snyder had walked to account for the three runs.

Mickey Mantle's tremendous triple, scoring Yogi Berra, who had singled, in the sixth inning gave the Yankees the only score in the first game.

Stafford beat Cleveland in the first game of Saturday's double header for his first major league victory. This was the Richmond grad's third start.

Moryn's Homer Wins For Cards

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Walt Moryn's two-run homer in the sixth inning gave the St. Louis Cardinals and young Ray Sadecki a 2-1 victory over the Cincinnati Reds Wednesday night.

The victory was the eighth of the season against seven losses for Sadecki, a 19-year-old left-hander who limited the Reds to six hits in beating them for the third straight time this season.

Moryn's sixth inning homer came after Stan Musial had been thrown out at the plate trying to score from first on a double to left center by Ken Boyer.

The homer was the 29th yielded this season by Red right-hander Jay Hook, who was tagged with his 15th loss against 10 victories.

The Reds' only run came in the third inning on Gordy Coleman's single, a walk to Hook, and a single by Roy McMillan.

Frick Rejects Veeck's Appeal

NEW YORK (UPI) — Baseball commissioner Ford Frick Wednesday advised President Bill Veeck of the White Sox that there is no appeal from American League president Joe Cronin's decision rejecting a protest of last Sunday's game.

Veeck had protested a decision by umpire Ed Hurley which had nullified a pinch home run by Ted Kluzewski during the White Sox' 3-1 defeat to the Baltimore Orioles.

Hurley, umpiring at third base, called time out seconds before Kluzewski hit the ball out of the park with two men on base. Veeck protested the decision to Cronin, who rejected the White Sox plea on Monday.

"Pic Six" Is OK'd

Blaze Hanover Captures Rich Hambletonian

Four Heats Needed To Determine Victor In Harness Classic

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DU QUINN, Ill. (AP)—In a historic four-heat session, fastest ever trotted by 3 year olds, Blaze Hanover Wednesday won the record $144,590 Hambletonian by a neck in a race-off with Quick Son and Hoot Frost.

It was a great comeback and a personal victory for Blaze and his crafty driver-trainer Joe O'Brien. The big chestnut son of a former winner, Hoot Mon, owned by the S. A. Camp Farms of Shafter, Calif., had not a victory all year after setting a record for 2-year-old trotters in 1959 by winning $142,052.

Four Heats Needed

This was only the third time in the history of the trotting classic that four heats were needed to determine a winner. The last time was 26 years ago when Lord Jim beat out Muscletone and Princess Peg in Goshen, N. Y.

The Hambletonian record of 159 4-5 set by Emily's Pride in 1958 was matched by Blaze in taking the first mile heat by a nose over Elaine Rodney.

Then Quick Song, driven by Frank Ervin and owned by Castleton Farm of Lexington, Ky., won the second trip in the blistering 96 degree heat at the Du Quoin Fairgrounds in 1:56 3-5 by 3/4 of a length over Lowe Hanover.

The original field of 19 three year olds was trimmed to 11 by scratches before the third mile race, which was won by Hoot Frost, equaling Quick Song's record.

Among those scratched was the strongly supported Uncle Sam.

Win Worth $85,019

The victory was worth a record $85,019 for the Blazer, who didn't win in seven starts this season and broke gait in four of them. Blaze was rated a 6 to 1 shot for this Kentucky Derby of harness racing.

The time was 2:10 3-5.

A. H. Wilson Hurt In Crash Near Romney

Car Careens Into Boulders

Alvin H. Wilson, Bedford Road, first vice president of the George F. Hazelwood Company here, last night was injured in an auto accident on U. S. Route 50 near Romney and was admitted to Hampshire County Memorial Hospital in that community.

He was taken to the hospital emergency room and full details of his injuries and condition were not available last night.

West Virginia State Police at Romney said the accident occurred about 9 p. m. as Mr. Wilson was traveling in the direction of Romney.

Blinded By Lights

They said lights of a tractor-trailer headed west reportedly blinded him, and his car went out of control and ran into some boulders at the Paul Williams rock quarry.

Mr. Wilson was traveling alone at the time of the accident. The car, police said, was demolished. The highway in the area where the accident occurred was recently resurfaced and had about a five to seven-inch berm.

After being blinded Mr. Wilson ran off the right of the highway and the car continued to the left and across the highway into the boulders.

Chief of Police Luther Hutter, his assistant, Frank Kight and Constable Charles Weese assisted state police in the investigation.

Two Youths Injured

At least two youths were injured earlier in the day in a two-car accident near Burlington, W. Va., police said. Full details were not available late last night.

One of the youths, James D. Newcomb, 17, of Burlington, was taken to the hospital in Romney. Another youth with Newcomb also was taken to the hospital. Police said that Roy Whipp of the Burlington area, driver of one of the cars, apparently was not hurt.

Trooper Robert Noecheil is investigating the accident, which occurred on a side road near Burlington.

Prisoner Will Continue Trip In Leg Irons

A prisoner of a Nebraska sheriff who was taken to the local jail yesterday after becoming unruly on a B&O train between here and Martinsburg is expected to finish his trip westward in leg shackles provided by Allegany County Sheriff Paul C. Haberlein.

Local police indicated yesterday that a railroad police officer will assist Sheriff W. W. Schulz of Sidney, Neb. in getting William Ward back to that state for prosecution.

The prisoner being transported back to the midwestern state became unruly and reportedly broke a window on Passenger Train 7.

Local police received a call from the Queen City station ticket office about 3:30 a. m. yesterday after the train arrived here.

The prisoner was said to have been creating a disturbance and causing general discomfort to passengers. The man will be accompanied by the sheriff and a police officer of the B&O, local police said.

Moose Picnic This Sunday

The family basket picnic for members of Lodge 271, Loyal Order of Moose, will be held on Sunday from 1 p. m. to 6 p. m. at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club picnic grounds.

Co-chairmen are Frank 'Pop' Trozzo and Joseph 'Gabby' McFarland. Art Gellner, Russell Minnick and John Vernal head the games committee.

Sports will be in charge of Herman Lewis and the corn-on-the-cob committee will be headed by John Biers. James Mulligan and Kenneth Wise will be in charge of ice cream and soft drinks, which will be free of charge.

Admission to the picnic will be by paid-up green receipts, the co-chairmen said last night.

Youth Fined $25

Rocco N. Franzie, 20, of 313 South Cedar Street, who was arrested Tuesday by City Police for unauthorized use of a National Guard ticket, yesterday was fined $25 in Trial Magistrate Court.

The youth, a former member of the National Guard, was arrested Tuesday afternoon by Officer William E. Valentine. The hearing yesterday was conducted by Magistrate Paul W. Barnett.

August Level Of Building Is County High

Shopping Center Swells Total

August was 1960's best month to date in total value of construction authorized by Allegany County building permits, thanks primarily to the approval for the proposed $950,000 shopping center in LaVale.

During the month which ended yesterday there were 35 building permits issued by James G. Stevenson, clerk to the county commissioners, and the total estimated cost of construction was $1,085,490. The shopping center permit accounted for $950,000 and the other 34 permits took care of the remaining $135,490.

In number of permits, August was the lowest since March when only 21 were obtained. Last month also was below August 1959 in the number of permits, as 40 were issued a year ago. The August total construction figure of $649,750 last year was 1959's best in that respect too.

Nearly half of the 35 building permits were for new dwellings. There were 17 dwellings, seven additions to dwellings and six garages in the total. The other five included the shopping center, a garage and storage, storage shed, storage building and camp.

The 35 August building permits authorized construction in 15 different election districts of the county. The leader, as usual, was District 29 in LaVale, with nine, followed by District 7, Cresaptown-Rawlings, with six. Other districts with more than one August permit included Districts 5, North End suburban, and 16, North Branch, three each; District 6, West Side suburban; 13, Mt. Savage; 20, Corriganville; Ellerslie, two each.

There was one permit issued in August for construction in Districts 2, Oldtown; 3, Flintstone; 11, Frostburg suburban; 18, Midland; 21, Gross; 23, East Side suburban; 26, Frostburg suburban, and 30, Zihlman.

After eight months, 279 building permits have been issued this year for work estimated by the builders to cost a total of $2,796,510. Last year at the same time, 280 permits had been obtained but the total estimated cost was $2,050,395 or $746,115 less than this year.

A son of the late William G. and Sarah (Parker) Boughton, Mr. Boughton was the husband of the late Christine Boughton.

He was a member of First Presbyterian Church and was a 50-year member of Mountain City Lodge 99, AF & AM, in Frostburg. He also was president of the Retired Teachers Association of Allegany County and was a member of the legislative committee of the Maryland State Teachers Association.

Surviving are two daughters, Miss Lillian Boughton, at home, and Mrs. James E. Perry, of Alton, Calif.; a sister, Miss Ella Boughton, Cleveland, Ohio; four grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

The body is at the Kight Funeral Home where the family will receive friends from 2 to 4 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m.

Services will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p. m. at the funeral home by Rev. Maurice D. Robertson, pastor of First Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in Frostburg Memorial Park where graveside services will be conducted by members of Mountain Lodge 99, AF & AM.

Up to 5,000 members of organized labor and their families are expected to attend the outing some time during the day.

The event will be in the form of a family basket picnic. Free refreshments will be provided by the labor council.

Picnic games and prizes will be provided for children. Plans for the picnic events will be in charge of Mrs. Eva Hogan.

James McGann, a member of Celanese Local 1874, Textile Workers Union, is general chairman of Labor Day picnic committee.

Other members are Graydon S. Dunlap, Charles E. Stutzman, Josephine Muller, Stanley Zwick, Joseph V. Burke, Harold Riggeman, Earl D. Sills, G. M. Yost and Charles E. Bramble.

The Western Maryland Central Labor Council represents over 6,000 members of organized labor in Allegany and Garrett counties.

As a member of the Post Office Committee, Congressman Foley should know better than to spend the taxpayers' money for his campaign," said a statement from Ben C. Fisher. Fisher is campaign manager for Charles McC. Mathias of Frederick, Republican nominee for the 6th District seat now held by Foley.

The citizens of Maryland are entitled to know why the taxpayers' money is spent by Foley to promote his own partisan ticket. It is a deliberate use of illegal campaign tactics and we want to see it stopped."

Fisher said he wrote the Postmaster General's Office that Foley, in an Aug. 1 newsletter mailed free, had urged his 6th District readers to support the Democratic ticket and had criticized the Republican administration.

Fisher said the law permits members free use of the mails for "official or departmental business."

Legion Is Planning Picnic For Children

Fulton Myers Post 153, American Legion, will hold a pre-Labor Day picnic for children on Sunday at the Kirk Royal farm in Spring Gap.

Adults are requested to bring their own picnic baskets. Refreshments will be served to the children. Games, swimming and fishing will be on the program of entertainment. A bus will leave the post home at 1 p. m. and return at 7 p. m.

Walshes To Arrive

Former judge and Mrs. William C. Walsh are expected to return home sometime Saturday from their trip to the Far East where Mr. Walsh visited his brother, Bishop James E. Walsh, who is imprisoned in Shanghai by Red China.

The Joseph J. Graziano Company of Pittsburgh, Pa., whose bid of $14,200 to repaint, clean and renovate the Allegany County Courthouse was accepted by the Board of County Commissioners on August 16, has been notified by the commissioners that the work may be started anytime after Tuesday, Sept. 6.

The Graziano firm was awarded the contract despite a bid $200 higher than the $14,000 submitted by the Tri-State Water Proofing Company, also of Pittsburgh. The commissioners decided that the Graziano Company had done about 10 jobs in Cumberland and Frostburg and the quality of its work was well known.

A report also was submitted to the county commissioners by the State Roads Commission on the status of Allegany County's secondary federal aid funds. It showed that some $3,953.83 had been spent on the Mexico Farms Road project as of July 31. An unexpended balance of $1,862.20 remains.

The report shows that a total of $121,000 in three different allocations is for plans, specifications and estimates for the Mexico Farms Road job. The 1959 allocation of $99,594 is all for plans, specifications and estimates.

Of the 1960 allocation, $80,519 is listed as unprogrammed and $21,406 for plans. All of the 1961 allocation, under which agreement is needed by June 30, 1962, is unprogrammed. It totals $48,926.

John B. Funk, chairman of the State Roads Commission, submitted a note to the county commissioners, that he is concurring with the commissioners of both Allegany and Washington counties in accepting the low bid of $45,539 submitted by E. D. Plumley and Son, Chambersburg, Pa., for building a new High Germany Road bridge over Sideling Hill Creek, the boundary between the two counties.

A letter from Marlin M. Stutzman, 811 Trost Avenue, complaining about the "deplorable" condition of Piedmont Avenue between Frost and Sunbury avenues was read to the commissioners. He lamented the fact that the section of Piedmont and Frost avenues have been hard surfaced at no cost to the property owners while the one block of Piedmont Avenue was left in such deplorable condition.

A hearing is scheduled today at 9 a. m. at City Hall by the Board of Appeals of the Maryland Department of Employment Security to rule on a decision which denied unemployment benefits to members of Local 419, Utility Workers Union recently.

The appeal was filed by George R. Hughes Jr., local attorney, after a special claims examiner denied jobless pay benefits to members of the local union who were involved in a labor dispute with the Cumberland and Allegany Gas Company.

The board of appeals is composed of Joseph P. Healy, Baltimore, chairman; Carlton Pyles, Prince George's County, and James M. Barry, Baltimore County.

In a previous story in The Cumberland News it was stated that Robert B. Kimble, executive director of the Department of Employment Security, headed the board of appeals. However, Mr. Kimble handles only administrative procedures of the department.

James Alfred Avirett, local attorney, will represent the C&G Gas Company at today's hearing.
